

Increase your customer sign up rates with instant forms population of user's ID data.

Nothing can be more frustrating for a customer than having to fill out lengthy forms on their small mobile devices. That's why more customers abandon the process than actually complete it. With Fastfill your customers no longer need to laboriously key enter their personal data. Fastfill turns your customers mobile device into a ID data extraction and population tool.

How it works

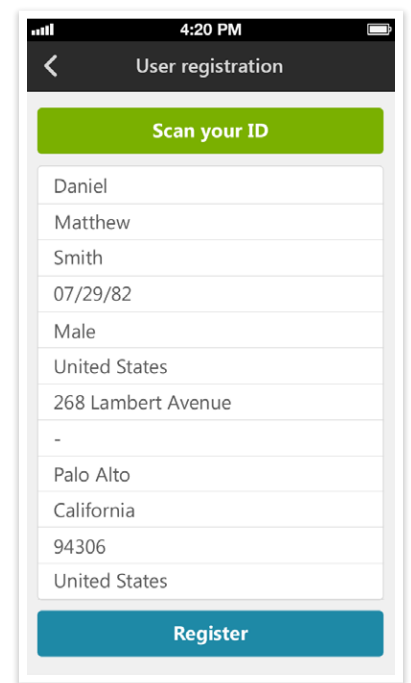

1

When customers arrive at your form fill-in page they see a "Scan your ID" option in addition to traditional key entry fields.

2

Customers simply tap the scan ID button, hold up their passport, driver license or government-issued ID to their device camera.

3

Fastfill scans the ID, extracts the data it contains and then places the data into your form. It takes just a second or two.

Turn your customers smartphone into an ID data extraction and population tool

- ✓ Save your customers time with near instant form filling
- ✓ Increase process completion rates by 20-30%
- ✓ Create a user experience that customers love
- ✓ Reduce data entry errors

Features & benefits

Great user experience

Customers do business with companies that offer them fast and easy mobile experiences.

Improve customer acquisition ROI

It costs a lot to bring a prospect to your sign up form. You can't afford to have them abandon the process at that point.

Increase process completion rates

Transform laborious and error prone key entry into a near-instant automated process.

Speed your customers along

Saving your customers nearly 60 seconds of data entry is a gift they'll appreciate.

Worldwide

Fastfill processes passports, driver and government IDs issued by over 100 countries.

Cross platform

Fastfill is available for iOS and Android apps that run on any smartphone or tablet. Able to read bar code, MRZ and non-encoded IDs.

Easy to implement

Our Fastfill SDK integrates seamlessly into your mobile app with only an hour of developer time.

Customizable

Fastfill is customizable to match your app's look and feel and to meet the requirement of your business process.

Learn more about Fastfill at jumio.com or contact us at sales@jumio.com or 650.424.8545